

Cameron the Crab is a very special crab. You see, when Cameron was born she was a dull red colour with 3 big blue dots on his head, 1 on each of her eyes and on her forehead. It was a huge blessing to the Camerons family because this was the rarest colour to appear on a crab. They hadn't had the colour blue on a crab for generations~!

Cameron looked across the sea, anger boiling up inside of her. “UGH! IT WAS THE SEAS FAULT. I HATE IT HERE!” She collapsed and a single tear fell down her face following another and another until she started to sob. It had been exactly 1 year since her parents had died. They got stuck under a sharp, cold rock and the sea pushed the rock down onto them.

Cameron still had not recovered from this tragedy. Ever since she has been forced to fend for herself. She only ever got half her body weight of food every week! Until she met Caleb.

She laughed as she looked in Caleb’s eyes. It had been 2 years since she lost her parents. But other crabs described her as much happier than she used to be, and it's probably because of Caleb! Cameron walked across the sand of the beach and realised that Caleb had stopped. She turned around and saw him on his knees with a seaweed bracelet! “Cameron, will you be my crife?” “OMG! YES!”

It had been exactly 3 years since she lost her parents, but she was as happy as larry